Climate Emergency Don't COP Out!

Extreme weather across the world. Climate catastrophe televised from every continent. The climate emergency is real, writes Tony Staunton from the Campaign against Climate Change. Yet governments here, there and everywhere are denying the crisis in order to protect the oil and fossil-fuel corporations who fund them. This is the real conspiracy.

Don't Trust Truss

Prime Minister Truss doesn't raise any hope of more action on Climate Change. Indeed, the Tory Party MP's appear controlled by a small group of climate deniers who lobby to cut Green subsidies and jail climate protesters.

They're bringing back fracking, which will have no impact on fuel prices or security, changing the rules to ensure farming is prioritised over new solar projects, and giving the green light for new coal mines and oil.

Truss has ended the 'green levies' on energy bills, despite experts warning that this would save an average household just £150 off average annual bills now reported to be capped at over £4,000 by this time next year.

Cut Emissions

In reality, either the emissions that are heating the atmosphere, earth and oceans are reduced quickly and dramatically or we will experience social as well as environmental collapse in the near future.

Only mass protest can demand the fundamental changes to production required to stop climate collapse.

What we need is immediate tax investment in renewables - wind, solar and wave for cheap electricity for all - and a nationally funded programme of home insulation to drastically cut energy use. Now!

But the UK and other large economies are copping-out, preferring the get-richer-quicker approach of lining the pockets of super-rich whilst leaving the vast majority of humanity to suffer. They're driving us towards extinction.

COP27 won't act!

Next month the 27th United Nations Conference of the Parties (COP for short) meets in the police state of Egypt. There will be few campaigners allowed. Protests are proscribed and protesters imprisoned. It will be dominated by fossil-fuel corps.

Last year's COP26 in Glasgow saw little action from the Conference which is supposed to agree international co-operation to stop climate collapse.

We doubt that anything valuable will be decided at this year's COP27. But it will be a focus for renewed public debate about the deepening climate catastrophe. We should demonstrate our demands for action - in Plymouth and everywhere!
